

Don-O-Ray Farm Adventure

Service Dog Policy

Welcome to Don-O-Ray Farm Adventure! To ensure the safety and well-being of all our visitors and animals, please read, fill out and acknowledge acceptance of our Service Dog Policy.

Service Dog Entry: Service dogs are allowed if they are performing their trained duty for a specific individual entering the Farm Adventure.

Service Dog Definition: A service dog is defined as a dog that is individually trained to perform tasks or do work for a person with a disability. The tasks performed by the dog must be directly related to the person's disability. Emotional support dogs do not qualify as service dogs, by our definition.

Animal Enclosures: Service dogs are absolutely NOT allowed in any of the animal enclosures and must remain at least 10 feet away from all animal enclosures. A map of allowed service dog areas is available.

Animal Safety: Many of our animals have primal fears of dogs as predators. The proximity of dogs to the animals can create anxiety and stress. In fact, bunnies have been known to die hours later after a stressful encounter with a predator. We have witnessed our goats impaling a dog through the fence. We've seen a dog bark at our ducks from 25' away sending them scattering into the wire fences.

Disturbance: Any disturbance caused by your service dog will result in the dog's immediate removal from the Farm Adventure area. Any abusive or threatening language from any person towards our staff will result in their immediate removal from the Farm Adventure grounds and denied re-entry, including canceling of a season pass.

False Claims: Falsely stating that a dog is a service dog when it is not is a Federal Offense and you may be prosecuted and or fined up to $2000.
